Look Up
By Nicole Winans

People all flow past me,
Paying no attention.
Caught in the stream of life,
No time to say hello.

Paying no attention,
Oblivious to those around.
No time to say hello,
Only focused on themselves.

Oblivious to those around,
They should stop and take a moment.
Only focused on themselves,
They should look at others.

They should stop and take a moment,
It could bring reward.
They should look at others,
Peer beyond the closed door.
